

John Wilson wonders

why do we bother?

DATE: January 26 (Friday)

TIME: 5:30

PLACE: Building 6
Room 402

There will be a farewell party afterwards (19:00-21:00) in Building 13, Room 304.

Students: ¥1500 Others: ¥3000

All welcome!

As he approaches retirement after twenty-five years at Sophia University, John Yamamoto-Wilson thinks back on all the crowded trains he took to get to work, all the meetings and deadlines, all the homework to mark, the grades to give out, and asks why? All the millions of people on those crowded trains, all with their schedules, their meetings and their deadlines. Why?

Don't worry! He's not going to depress the hell out of everyone! This is a light-hearted, irreverent look at the things we prioritize and the way we live our lives.

